WORKSHOP REPORT

Report on 'Electoral Process, Voting Behaviour and Mock Polling'

Elections are a fundamental component of democratic societies, serving as a crucial mechanism for citizens to exercise their right to choose their representatives and leaders, Emphasizing the Importance of Election Process. From the inception of First General Elections in India since 1952, till now India has a successful history of organising elections in free and fair elections. As India soon is going to face the 18th General Elections, the Department of Political Science has recognised the need of holding a Work shop on Electoral process and Voting Behaviour and to organise a Mock Polling to create awareness among First Time Voters on the process of Voting.

With the intention of creating awareness on the Electoral Process The Department of Political Science has consulted Grama Jyothi Society and the Director Dr.B.Subadra attended as the Resource person to this workshop. Principal Dr.R.Krishnaveni addressed the students in the inaugural speech and appreciated the Department of Political science for organising the workshop at the right time. She motivated the students to take part in the elections to promote democracy in the country. She also opined that the strength of the nation depends on the strong youth who believes in the values of justice freedom and equality.

Dr.D.Vishnu Priya, IQAC Coordinator ,Guest of Honour of the Programme has encouraged the students to be attentive and active on the students to gain more from this type of innovative activities. She told that the Right to vote is the most precious vote and it to be exercised wisely.

Smt. Y.Vanaja, Convener of the Workshop has expressed that the Constitution has believed that the universal Adult Franchise is the innate value of the basic structure and we should be grateful to the constitution as the right to vote is guaranteed to all the citizens equally.

Smt.Yasmeen ,Co-Convener of the Workshop has explained the importance of being conscious while exercising the Vote. As the Politicians try to manipulate the voters during propaganda, as a intelligent voter, we should think and vote.

The first Session in the Workshop was chaired by Smt. B.Subadra and she told that the vigilant and intelligent youth form the best combination of the nation . she urged the students that as the first time voters they should make a habit that every one should vote in the every elections. Elections are like exams to nation which promote the nation next level. So while electing the representatives they should select the one who has the proper idea of development.

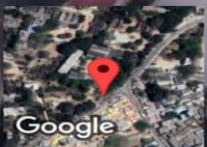

Second session in the workshop was chaired by Dr,Khajavalli has explained various steps in the voting process. Elections create celebrating environment in the nation and they should continue the celebration for later five years also without repenting.

Third session was chaired by Sri.K.Venkata Siva and shared the behavioural trends during the elections. Smt. Hazeera Khanum attended as the special Guest for the programme and lightened students on the voting trends and voting behaviour in India since First General Election.

The later sessions followed by the students' activities on mock poling

The workshop came to an end with the Valedictory session and II Town SI Sri. Hari Hara Prasad attended as the chief guest. He advised the vote for democracy and development and not for money and community. The meeting came to an end with the vote of thanks by the Convener of the Workshop.
